

Introduction

Renewable resource, All natural, Sustainable, Green , Wildlife, Quality Habitat, Clean Water

All words and concepts that are important to humans and wildlife.

Did you know North America has the best managed wildlife in the world?

Do you know why? Do you know who cares enough to gladly pay for this ?

The American Sportsman—Hunters, fishermen, and trappers

This is about the smallest and least understood segment-- Trappers and the furbearers they harvest

A couple quick facts:

There are more wild furbearers in the U. S. today that there were 100 years ago.

No furbearing animals are threatened or endangered by fur harvesting today. Natural fur is a renewable resource and nothing is wasted in making a wild fur garment.

Thanks to the Pittman-Robertson Act sportsmen contributed over 256 Million Dollars to wildlife conservation in 2012. Hunting, fishing, and trapping is worth 120 Billion Dollars to the U.S. economy and 3 million jobs.

According to the website for Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies